

News release.

James D. White (Jim)

Jim joined the Anova Board in April 1, 2008. Jim has been the Chief Executive Officer of MedSources, Ltd., a Louisiana medical finance and management consulting company since 1997. Jim also is the Chief Operating Officer of MedGroup One, Inc. MedGroup One, Inc., is a Louisiana corporation that owns and operates a group of medical clinics in both Arkansas and Louisiana. In addition to his career in business, Jim holds a law degree from the University of Michigan (1976); and an advanced degree in International Trade and Finance from Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México (1973). Following law school, Jim worked as an Associate Attorney at Jones, Day, Reavis & Pougé (now just Jones Day) at their Los Angeles, CA office (1976-1979), where he was active in both securities and corporate law matters. Prior to law school, Jim lived in Washington, DC, and worked at the Center for Policy Analysis at the National League of Cities-U.S. Conference of Mayors, Inc.